Santa Cruz

Near the hotel, you will find the centre of Santa Cruz City about 10 minutes' walk away. Being one of the first regions where the colonization of the island started, it still preserves historical vestiges of its antique importance. The church was built in 1533 and has been restored and changed but still maintains traces of the original manuelino style. It is the second largest church on the island after the Funchal Sé Cathedral.

From Santa Cruz we head towards Camacha, one of island most picturesque villages, famous for its folklore dancing group and especially for its wicker products that enchant tourists.

Wherever you enjoy our water facilities you will have wonderful views over the Atlantic Ocean towards the distant Desertas islands.
